Writing Assignment 2

LACC 201: Writing Assignment 2

This week's Writing Assignment comes from the bottom of section 2.3 in McLean's Writing for Success, in the box titled "Writing Application": "Tell a family story. You likely have several family stories to choose from, but pick the one that you find most interesting to write about. Use as many details as you can in the telling." Write one paragraph, taking care to follow proper paragraph structure and edit precisely. Remember, too, to consider your purpose and audience: Why are you telling this story? What do you hope your audience will gain from reading it? Is your purpose clear, and are your details as specific as possible?

All papers for this course must adhere to APA formatting; for specifics, reference the APA Sample Essay, APA Template, and APA links at the top of our course site. See the Syllabus for details about Late Papers, Revisions, and Turnitin.

In completing this assignment, please consider the following:

Purpose: To tell a family story. What further purpose do you have? How do you hope your reader will think differently about life or about you after reading your story?

Audience: Your professor.

Due Date: By midnight on Sunday. Final papers must be in APA format, edited carefully, and below a 10% Turnitin score.
